SECURITY DEPOSIT

The security deposit is a mandatory fee required from the charterer upon arrival at the marina on the commencement date of the charter. Payment methods accepted include Visa, MasterCard, or cash; American Express is not accepted. This deposit is preauthorized and serves as a financial guarantee against potential damages or losses incurred during the charter period, in accordance with international maritime law and the policies of the insurance provider. In the event of damage or loss to the vessel, the charterer will be liable for the associated costs. The security deposit will be used to cover these expenses, and the charterer is required to replenish the deposit to its original amount to continue the charter. Failure to do so may result in the cancellation of the charter or legal proceedings to recover damages, including compensation for additional costs incurred by the operator.

Upon termination of the charter, the security deposit will be refunded in full provided that no damages, losses, or violations of the charter agreement have occurred. If damages or losses are identified, and the costs exceed the security deposit, the difference will be billed to the charterer. Any remaining balance of the deposit, after deducting the costs, will be refunded to the charterer's account if paid via credit card, or paid on-site upon vessel redelivery if paid in cash.

SECURITY DEPOSIT INSURANCE

The security deposit insurance serves to reduce the overall security deposit amount required at embarkation. It is payable in cash and comprises two components: the insurance amount, which is non-refundable, and the security deposit, which is refundable upon the completion of the charter, provided no damages or additional charges are incurred.

The reduced security deposit, after applying the insurance, is payable via credit card. This process ensures a streamlined and secure transaction, facilitating a smoother embarkation experience for clients.

Note: Security insurance is mandatory for all skippered charters. The standard fee includes a 300 € insurance premium and a 500 € security deposit, which together ensure comprehensive coverage and security during the charter period.

RYA, ASA, Nautic Ed certifications are officially recognized but it is important that the charterers do not own a license with restrictions or limitations such as 'Daylight hours', 'Day skipper', 'Inland waters', etc. Further sailing courses might be required in order to obtain an adequate sailing license, but most times, an application to the sailing association that issued the certificate, is what it takes to issue a document which certifies the needed qualifications.

The sailing licenses are inspected and approved by the port authorities, according to the Greek regulations.

Charterers should ensure to have the appropriate certifications before they arrive as they are the only responsible in case of any rejection of their certification -and therefore the approval to leave the port- by the authorities.
